CARD TYPES

- There are 4 types of cards:
 - Player/Goal cards
 - Action cards
 - Management cards
 - Half-Time card
- Player cards allow you to set up the Team Formation. The different colors distinguish the Home team from the Away team.
- Goal cards keep count of goals scored by each player.
- Action cards are categorised in 3 sub-types:
 - Attack [Orange]
 - Midfield [Green]
 - Defense [Blue]
- Management [Grey] cards are used during the game, but are kept aside and are not part of the player's hand.
- The Half-Time card is used to indicate when half-time is reached during the game.

SETUP

- Shuffle all the 60 Action cards [Orange, Green, Blue] and distribute 5 to each player, face down. Players can look at their hand.
- Place the remaining Action cards as a Draw pile, face down, at the center of the play area.
- Insert the Half-Time card in the middle of the Draw pile.
- Distribute a set of Management [Grey] cards to each player, including: 2x Substitution, 1x Formation Switch, 1x VAR Goal Check, 1x Out of Position.
- Distribute 5x Home Player cards to one player and 5x Away Player cards to the other. Then, define the Team Formations as explained in the section below.
- Flip the remaining Player cards, and place them as Goal cards in another pile, close to the center of the play area.
- The player with the Home Team starts. Alternatively, you can decide who goes first by tossing a coin.
- Start the game, play in turns and score goals!

CARD USAGE

- Player cards remain on the table during the entire game.
- Action cards are placed on top of Player cards when used during a turn.
- Management cards are used anytime during the game, without placing them on top of Player cards.
- Action cards can be combined to generate more powerful attacks, defenses and other tactical maneuvers. For instance:
 - +2 Attack + 1 Attack = 3 Attack
 - +1 Defense + 2 Defense = 3 Defense
- Action and Management cards are consumed once used. At the end of the turn, move them face up to the Discard pile.

TEAM FORMATION

- To define a starting Team Formation, 5 Player cards are allocated between Defense [Blue], Midfield [Green] and Attack [Orange] positions.
- A player's Team Formation determines which Action cards can be played at any given moment.
- Example:
 - A 2-1-2 Team Formation (2x Defenders, 1x Midfielder, 2x Attackers) allows a player to use up to two Defense Action cards, one Midfield Action card and two Attack Action cards during their turn.
- The starting Team Formation needs to have at least one Player in each position. Once the match is started, this restriction is removed when using Management cards.

HOW TO PLAY

I. GAME STRUCTURE & TURNS

- The game is played in two halves, the First Half and the Second Half, known as Regular Time.

- Each player plays in turn, which consists in two actions:

- Pick the top card from the Draw pile

- Play one card or more OR Play nothing and pick a second card from the Draw pile.

- Some cards allow to attack and/or defend, some allow to react to the opponent's actions, while others are combined to create powerful effects.

! Instant cards can be played whenever an opponent plays a card (unless stated otherwise). They are marked with the ! icon.

- The Penalty! card can be played right after the opponent successfully defends or plays a Tactical Foul card, and before playing any additional card.
- The Tactical Foul card can be played right before the opponent plays a Counter-Attack card, if they defended with some + Defense card(s).

- A player can only initiate an attack during their own turn. Doing so starts an Attack-Defense phase.
- At the end of a turn, all the cards played during a turn are discarded and moved to the Discard pile, face up.
- A player cannot end their turn with more than 7 cards in their hand. They must discard any excess cards before ending the turn.

II. ATTACK-DEFENSE PHASE

- To score a goal, a player needs to attack their opponent by playing one or more +ATTACK Action card(s) during their turn.

The attacking player's turn lasts until the Attack-Defense phase is resolved. Cards played by the defending opponent during this phase are also part of the same turn.

- Once an attack has been initiated, players cannot add more +ATTACK cards to increase its initial value, or to trigger a second attack.

- To defend successfully, the opponent must use +DEFENSE cards from their hand that match the +ATTACK value. Some cards can also reduce that +ATTACK value. The defender can also choose to concede the goal without using any cards, as part of their tactical play.

- Various outcomes can occur during an Attack-Defense phase:

- The opponent cannot defend successfully and the attacking player scores a goal!
- The opponent defends successfully and no other card is played from either side.
- The opponent defends and triggers a counter-attack, forcing the attacking player to now defend. This back-and-forth can continue for as long as cards can be played.

- An Attack-Defense phase keeps on until:

- A goal is scored.
- Both players reach a stalemate.

- If a goal is scored during the Attack-Defense phase, the player conceding the goal starts the next turn and picks two cards instead of one.

III. END OF THE FIRST HALF

- Players play in turns until the Half-Time card is revealed as the top card on the Draw pile.
- From there, players cannot pick or draw cards from the Draw Pile until the end of the First Half.
- After completing the turn in which the Half-Time card is revealed, one last turn is played before ending the First Half.
- Discard the Half-Time card from the Draw Pile to start the Half-Time break.

IV. HALF-TIME BREAK

- During the Half-Time break, each player can:
 - Modify their entire Team Formation for free, without any restrictions.
 - Restock their hand up to 5 Action cards, by picking cards from the Draw pile. This action cannot be done if a player has already 5 or more cards in their hand.
- The Half-Time break ends when all players are ready.

IV. SECOND HALF & END OF REGULAR TIME

- The player who didn't start the First Half starts the Second Half.
- The Second Half lasts until the Draw pile is depleted.

- Once completing the turn in which the last card is drawn, one final turn is played before ending the Second Half, thus also ending Regular Time.

The player who scored the most goals wins the game!

- If Regular Time ends in a tie, players can decide the game by:
 - Ending the game in a Draw.
 - Playing Extra Time. If it also ends in a Draw, proceed to the Penalty Shoot-Out.
 - Directly playing the Penalty Shoot-Out.

EXTRA TIME & PENALTY SHOOT-OUT

- Extra Time is played just like during Regular Time, but with a halved Draw Pile:
 - Reshuffle all the Action cards and set up the game as usual. Split the Draw Pile in two stacks; insert the Half-Time card in one stack, and discard the other one.
 - Management cards do not get redistributed, each player keeps the one(s) they haven't used during Regular Time.
 - The player who started Regular Time starts the First Half of Extra Time.
- To play the Penalty Shoot-Out:
 - Distribute 2x Goal Chance and 1x Miraculous Save cards to each player. Each player lines up the 3 cards in front of them, face down.
 - Then, the opponent chooses one card to reveal. If the Miraculous Save card is revealed, the penalty is saved. Otherwise, the opponent scores.
 - Repeat in turns until each player has taken 5 penalties. The player who has scored the most penalties wins the game! If the score is still level, continue the shoot-out in sudden death until one player wins.

4-PLAYER VARIANT

- You can play a team-based variant with 2 players in each team. To do so, play a game as usual, with the updated setup.
 - Players start with 3 cards each (instead of 5), and the hand size is limited to 5 cards max (instead of 7).
 - Management cards are shared by both players on a team.
- During a turn, both players in a team play together:
 - Both players draw a card at the start of their turn. They play cards, or choose not to, as a team. If one player plays cards, the teammate is also considered to be playing, even if they play no cards.
 - Players play all their card(s) at once, one after the other. The same applies when players are defending. There are no rules as to which player on a team plays first.
 - If the team chooses to play nothing, both players pick a card at the end of their turn.
 - If a team concedes a goal, both players pick 2 cards each.
- Players cannot communicate the content of their hand to their teammate. They can only communicate their intentions. You can say "I can defend", not "I have a Miraculous Save card".

FAQ

- Midfield Action cards can be played while attacking or defending, but not both at the same time. Players choose in which role the card is used when they play it.
- Counter-Attacks can be boosted by the Overlap card, but not by adding +ATTACK cards. After a Counter-Attack card is played, the Defense cards previously played can no longer be negated. Opponents can prevent a counter-attack if an Instant card is played right before.
- The effects of the Overlap and Out of Position cards do not apply retroactively on cards that have already been used. They only combine with cards that they are played with.
- When a player uses the Tactical Foul card to negate an attack, the opponent cannot add more Attack Action cards. On the contrary, if it is used to negate a defense, the opponent can still defend. Moreover, the Tactical Foul card cannot negate the effect of a card that has already been used during a turn.
